The Austrian National Public Health Institute GÖG at a Glance

The Austrian National Public Health Institute (Gesundheit Österreich GmbH, GÖG) is the institution responsible for researching and planning public healthcare in Austria, and also acts as the national competence and funding centre for the promotion of health. It is organised in three business units. Set up by federal law on 1 August 2006, GÖG has the federal government as its sole shareholder, represented by the Ministry of Health.

ÖBIG

Österreichisches Bundesinstitut
für Gesundheitswesen

The Austrian National Institute for Health Services Research was founded in 1973. We analyse data, provide comprehensive information in the field of public health policy, and facilitate reform and innovation processes.

BIQG

Bundesinstitut für Qualität im
Gesundheitswesen

The Austrian National Institute for Quality in Health Care was founded in 2007 (Act on Healthcare Quality). We develop standards, maintain registries, evaluate the quality of health-care interventions and provide information and decision support to promote high quality healthcare in Austria.

FGÖ

Fonds Gesundes Österreich

The Austrian Health Promotion Fund was founded in 1998 (Health Promotion Act). We promote health and support initiatives to establish and improve knowledge, competences, and networks by granting financial assistance and offering guidance.

International Activities

Our mission is to maintain and improve quality, efficacy, and efficiency in the public health system. We offer a wide range of expertise from health care planning, economics, pharmaceuticals, health literacy, health promotion, and health reporting to evidence-based decision-making support.

FROM BRAZIL TO KAZAKHSTAN

We provide systematically compiled databases, analyses, and expertise as a foundation for informed decision making. In order to do this, we closely monitor the public health system and the determinants which influence the population's health. By networking, providing information, and raising awareness, we prove to be an effective communication platform for the public health system. Our greatest strengths are the competences, qualifications, and personal dedication of our staff, coupled with expertise in and knowledge of the latest methods in data analysis. Our scientific staff are free to pursue research or consultancy work within our remit.

GÖG is a public non-profit limited liability company fully owned by the Republic of Austria.

We carry out research and act as consultants. This is reflected in our active partnerships in national and international consultancy, knowledge, and research networks.

FEATURED PROJECTS

Our activities for international clients range from research to consultancy, including, for example, Joint Actions on e-Health, HTA, health information, and tackling antimicrobial resistance and healthcare-associated infections. We provide consultancy and technical guidance in different fields, e.g. the pricing of medicines, hospital planning, or health care competency and can evaluate health care projects.

COLLABORATION WITH THE WHO

We are proud to host two WHO Collaborating Centres, one on Pharmaceutical Pricing and Reimbursement Policies and one for Health Promotion in Hospitals and Health Care. We also facilitate the WHO Action Network on Measuring Population and Organizational Health Literacy.

TEAMWORK

Our project teams are multi-disciplinary and interdisciplinary and we have a broad network of independent specialists who contribute their expertise as well.

OUR NETWORK OF CLIENTS SPANS THE GLOBE, ALTHOUGH WE FOCUS ON AUSTRIAN AND EUROPEAN CLIENTS.
